Under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), introduced in May 2018, individuals have a right to be informed about how the Trust uses any personal data that we hold about them. We comply with this right by providing 'privacy notices' to individuals where we are processing their personal data.

This privacy notice explains how we collect, store and use personal data about you. We, the school, are the 'data controller' for the purposes of data protection law.

Why we use this data

We use this data to:

- Enable staff to be paid
- Facilitate safe recruitment, as part of our safeguarding obligations towards pupils
- Support effective performance management
- Inform our recruitment and retention policies
- Allow better financial modelling and planning
- Enable ethnicity and disability monitoring

- Ensure that appropriate access arrangements can be provided for volunteers

Our lawful basis for using this data

The school processes workforce data under the following legal bases:

Contract - to meet the contractual obligations with its workforce during the recruitment process and following employment.

Legal Obligation – to record, process and share data regarding its workforce to comply with employment law. This includes the legal duty to process governance information in respect to Trustees.

Public Interest – where processing is required in the performance of a task in the public interest.

Consent – where another legal basis is not already present, consent will be requested before processing personal data. Consent may be withdrawn at any time.

Where you have provided us with consent to use your data, you may withdraw this consent at any time. We will make this clear when requesting your consent and explain how you go about withdrawing consent if you wish to do so.

Some of the reasons listed above for collecting and using personal information about you overlap, and there may be several grounds which justify the school's use of your data.

Collecting this information

While the majority of information we collect from you is mandatory, there is some information that you can choose whether or not to provide to us.

Whenever we seek to collect information from you, we make it clear whether you must provide this information (and if so, what the possible consequences are of not complying), or whether you have a choice.

How we store this data and how long it is held

Personal data is stored in line with the IRMS Information and Records Management Society's toolkit for schools. This is normally seven years from the date of leaving employment with the school, but in some instances, this may be longer when a legal basis is present. A copy of the Toolkit is held on the Trust SharePoint site.

We maintain files to store personal information about all staff and volunteers. The information contained in this file is kept secure and is only used for purposes directly relevant to work with the school.

Data sharing

Workforce data is shared with:

- The local Authority to support the management of workforce data across the County (section 5 of the Education - Supply of Information about the School Workforce - (England) Regulations 2007 and amendments)
- The Diocese
- The Department for Education (DfE) and regulatory bodies such as Ofsted
- Payroll and personnel service providers
- Training, catering, occupational health providers

We are required to share information about our workforce with the DfE under section 5 of the Education (Supply of Information about the School Workforce) (England) Regulations 2007 and amendments. This data sharing underpins workforce policy monitoring, evaluation and links to school funding/expenditure and the assessment of educational attainment.

The department has robust processes in place to ensure that the confidentiality of personal data is maintained and there are stringent controls in place regarding access to it and its use.

In addition, Governor / Trustee data is shared with:

- School auditors
